Subject: Fake Viagra!
Attachments: 20130221073825158.pdf

Good morning everyone!

I figured I would start our day off with a little blurb about fake Viagra. I found this in last week's issue of Chemical & Engineering News. I know most of us are well aware of the results already, but I figured I would pass it around anyways. I just wish it would have said if the markings were their markings!

This magazine has a lot of really cool and interesting articles, although the vast majority do not apply to the forensic sciences. But if you just really love chemistry and want some reads let me know and I can drop this in your mail box or you can pick it up off my desk. But please return it because I haven't finished this issue yet! ☺
